

McCORD

Advanced Micelle Regenerative Technologies

Epidermal Support Apoptosis and Molecular Recycling

A well-hydrated, antioxidant-supportive skin environment helps protect viable epidermal cells while normal apoptosis removes aging or damaged cells. Membrane-bound apoptotic material is then safely cleared and its molecular components recycled, supporting tissue balance and the skin's natural renewal process.